COMMIS.

Expressionist

This Beverage menu,

unlike most others,

is arranged with the expression of ones mood in mind,

from twilight until midnight.

Some products appear in more than one place.

Wines are color-coded to best match their pigment in the glass.

If you prefer clean lines and clear instructions

a more traditional version is available on the other side of this menu.

ADONIS

Sherry, Italian Vermouth, Orange Bitters

$21

"The Adonis was named after the 1884 burlesque show by William Gill, which is often credited as the first-ever Broadway musical. While the production enjoyed its popularity, the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York City created a cocktail in its honour, marrying a base of sherry along with orange bitters and sweet vermouth. To this day it remains one of the most successful sherry-based aperitif cocktails in the classic canon."
